City Councilmen
Held Secret Caucus to Select Officials

The caucus of the city council held last night behind closed doors resulted as far as could be learned in little change in the personnel of city officers for the coming year. Opposition was expected in but two offices but really materialized in only one. Dr. C. E. Chasht, who was a candidate against O. B. Miles for the position of city health officer, found that he could not hold both the office of city health officer and that of county health officer, and had his name withdrawn as a candidate for the city office shortly before the council went into caucus. The other office in which opposition developed was that of Street Commissioner. W. S. Low was re-elected commissioner over the opposition of Hugh B. M. Rogers. B. W. Maey was reappointed as city attorney, Harry Hutson as fire chief, and Walter Skelton as city engineer. Four members of the police force were reappointed, the same being Officers Poland, Wright, Victor and Lucas. A fifth position remains to be filled. The position of chief is elective for a period of two years. Chief Cooper having served one year to date. The position of police matron was held up till a subsequent meeting, pending an effort to combine the offices of police matron and transient officer.

Patriotic Meetings In Salem Next Wednesday

Word was received this morning by Manager McDaniel, of the Commercial Club, that Major P. B. Edwards, Lieutenant Colonel McMillan and Captain E. J. Cook, three Canadian army officers, would arrive in Salem next Wednesday forenoon, and patriotic mass meetings will be held in the afternoon and evening at the armory.

These meetings are held under the auspices of the state council of defense, which is represented in Marion county by the Salem Commercial Club. These meetings are free, and no collection will be taken, nor soliciting done, nor campaign inaugurated. These men are direct from the battle fronts of Europe and are sent here by their government for educational purposes. They have all felt the pain of Prussian bullets and shells and theirs will be the story of men direct from the battle front. It is the first time since the war began that Salem and Marion county has had an opportunity like this of hearing the story of war at first hand from men who have been there.

A special call is made to men to be at the meeting. Anyone wishing to interview these officers should leave their names with Manager McDaniel at the commercial club.

Yesterday afternoon Sheriff Needham was notified by Silverton to keep watch for Ramon Nabhass, a Filipino, who it was claimed had stolen a watch, a chain and a diamond ring from parties at the Silver Falls Timber company's plant. The sheriff notified the police and this morning Officer Wright arrested the man wanted at the Southern Pacific depot. He was taken to the county jail where a search brought to light the missing articles. He was not given a preliminary hearing as the grand jury is in session, and his case was submitted directly to it.

A telegram has been sent to Geo. P. Rodgers, the Salem capitalist who is building ships for Uncle Sam at Astoria, requesting him to be in the city next Tuesday evening at the Cherrian annual coronation and installation and "crown the valorous and notorious Hal D. Patton, King King of the Cherrians." That's the way it was worded. Mr. Rodgers was the first man who ever wore the royal purple and walked the streets of Salem as King King, and an effort will be made to have him here next Tuesday night and coronate Mr. Patton to his royal office.

U. G. Holt returned last evening from Philomath, where he has been several days this week in connection with logging business on Mary's river. He says the Mary's River Logging company is resuming operations again, getting out logs which will be shipped by rail to the Spaulding mill at Salem and used here in filling government and other contracts. The company's railroad at the Mary's River camp is being extended back to reach a fine body of yellow fir timber. Mr. Holt reports the weather very mild, there being no snow on Mary's mountain, which has an elevation of some 4,500 and is usually capped in white at this time of the year.

Stock Trading On Narrow Margin Today

New York, Jan. 5.—The New York Evening Sun financial review today said:

Today's short session of the stock market was a very narrow affair and price changes, accordingly, were broad in limited transactions. Fluctuations of a point or more between sales were common among both the industrial and railroad lists. The general trend was downward because of the tendency to sell short and also to take profit.

Prices were a fraction to a point and more down at the opening, in trading which was fairly active for a Saturday. It is to be understood that most of the stocks flopped about a good deal at one moment wiping out losses, again giving way. Advances that Turkey has offered liberal peace terms to Russia, involving free use of the Dardanelles, had little effect. In fact, the downward movement was accelerated in the second hour.

Portland Car Fares Will Be Six Cents

The Public Service Commission today granted the request of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company for a six cent fare. It is provided however that in books paid for in advance the rate shall be 5 1-2 cents. Children's fares remain at four cents. This is not given out by the Public Service commission, but is correct.

List of Delinquents; Have Failed to Respond

The following is the list of delinquents who have failed to appear before the war registration board and file their questionnaires. The board has no means of knowing the facts concerning these, all it knows is that they have not appeared before it, and so it has to report them as delinquent. It may be some of them are enlisted, or have good excuses for not appearing, but over this the board has no jurisdiction being required by law to report all who do not answer, as delinquent:

England Suffering From Meat Shortage

London, Jan. 5.—The most acute meat shortage since the start of the war struck London today. The committee on meat supplies announced that present consumption must be cut in half, but held out hope for improvement within a short time.

The government released four thousand and six hundred tons of meat on condition that they be distributed only in the East End of the city.

Butchers are unable to get supplies. Five hundred of them were counted in a single queue at Smithfield and many were unsupplied from central warehouses. A great many meat shops in London have closed down from lack of supplies.

The government, it was asserted, will aim to keep the poor and residents of munitions centers supplied first—and the wealthy must come last.

Japanese Are Indifferent Over Great World War

By Ralph H. Turner,
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Tokio, Jan. 5.—Despite the alarming rapidity of world changes as the result of the present war and the critical situation faced by Japan, Japanese indifference continues. Yukio Ozaki, former minister of justice, declared in an interview today.

Deploping this condition and declaring the people apparently only think of the present war time prosperity, Ozaki expressed the opinion that only some swift and sudden blow against Japan, such as an air raid from Vladivostok, for example, would awaken the people.

The entire nation should co-operate to the utmost with the allies, he said, in their effort to annihilate German militarism.

Floral Society Will Meet Monday—Mrs. Lord to Deliver Address On Flax

The Salem Floral society will hold its regular monthly meeting in the auditorium of the Commercial club Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The feature of the evening will be an address by Mrs. Elizabeth Lord on the subject of flax. Mrs. Lord has been deeply interested in flax growing in Oregon for many years, in fact may justly be called the "mother of the movement." She has devoted much time and study to the industry and has backed her belief with money and hard continuous work. It was through the efforts of Mrs. Lord that flax growing was first undertaken in the state and that the Oregon Women's Flax Growing association was formed. Flax promises in the near future to be one of the leading crops of the valley, and the manufacturing of its fiber will sometime make the Willamette valley one of the wealthiest sections of the United States. The auditorium should, and certainly will be, filled with those anxious to learn something of this great industry.

The floral society meets the first Monday of each month, and at its meeting in February the subject taken up will be "War Gardens." A gentleman from Portland who is an authority on the matter will make the address of the evening, giving many valuable hints for gardeners as well as beginners as to what to grow and how to grow it.

CANCER CURED IN 11 DAYS

Miss Margaret Russell, 1135 N. Fifteenth St., Salem, Or., explains wonderful cure.

To Those Afflicted With Cancer: I deem it a great privilege to be able to testify to the absolute cure of cancer on the side of my nose from which suffered for three years.

Only July 14, 1916, I applied to Dr. S. C. Stone for treatment. He applied a paste for four days and then a simple ointment. In just eleven days after the first treatment the cancer fell out. The place soon healed and is now sound and well.
